

I currently receive the KLOVE FM signal 91.1 in my area. It is a very important radio station to me that I listen to daily. I would not want to do without it by having it displaced by an LPFM broadcast. We don't get many radio stations in my area that provide uplifting, encouraging and positive music that is also entertaining for the whole family. There is never a worry about our children hearing something adult, immoral or questionable on this FM signal. I know that many parents and family members are thankful for this type of music entertainment as well as news stories they provide that keep the family informed. Their news stories are told from a positive angle so that those who listen are not always hearing a negative story. KLOVE also includes many other positive, informational spots that help families with their children's problems etc. Thank you.
